Not A Single Fire Loss In A Year Here

City Establishes Record Unheard Of Throughout The Country

For the first time in the history of the local volunteer fire department, establishing a record thought to be unprecedented in any other city in the country, Sierra Madre went through the entire fiscal year extending from July 1934 to July 1935 without a single fire loss.

Acording to the annual fire report released yesterday by Joe Swanson, department secretary, there were 15 minor blazes during the year but no loss resulted either to buildings or contents. In the 1933-34 period the loss was $3,175.

In addition to this noteworthy accomplishment, the department also operated $73.90 under the total expense allowed by the municipal budget. The budget allowance was $2,916, while the firement kept their running expenses down to $2,842.

The first-aid crew went out six times—twice with the pulmotor, and one "attempted resue" is recorded. That attempt was by Officer Harlan Gerlach, who dived into the icy Santa Anita Dam waters time after time in a vain but persistent attempt to save the life of Lee Elson, whose body has not been recovered after being 10 weeks in the water.

Automobile fires, all of minor nature, were the most common type of blaze in the twelve-month period, with five cars calling for the chemical extinguisher. Four grass fires, four dwellings and one office fire were quickly subdued by the firemen. An average of 15 men was in attendance at every fire — which largely accounts for the exceptional record made.

Auxiliary Re-Elects Its Present Head

The attendance was small and the vote correspondingly light.

The other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Mrs. Lee S. High; second vice-president, Miss Minnia Stinman; secretary, Mrs. Florence Jensen; treasurer, Mrs. Val Miller; chaplain, Mrs. Maybelle Caley Barker; historian, Mrs. Marjorie Stinman Peterson; sgt.-at-arms, Mrs. Thomas P. Buie; marshall, Mrs. Louise Roe Bobb; executive committee, Mrs. Edith Woodruff, Mrs. Arthur Embree, Mrs. Grace B. Caukin.

Mrs. Orcelia Stinman, Helen Lovejoy and Mrs. Buie were elected delegates to the state convention at Fresno in August.

Alternates chosen were Mrs. James Irvine, Maybelle Barker, Mrs. Lee S. High.

Mrs. Barker read portions of a newspaper article concerning the national defense—and the need for and lack of it.

Low Birthrate Attributed To Cupid's Deceit

Usually decorous, the Associated Press this week relayed an item from the State Department of Public Health in Sacramento which stated that California's marriages have been constantly declining since 1930. In that year the State recorded 50,154 marriages, or a rate of 8.7 per 1000 population, as compared with but 43,164—a 7.2 ratio—in 1932. Cupid perked up a little last year, with 51,924 "I Do's" to his credit, but the ratio was still only 8.4, and shy of the 1930 mark.

Said the A.P., "The figures were advanced as the cause behind an announcement from Washington that California had the lowest birthrate in the Nation for 1934."

Lovejoy Is Next Legion Commander

Nominations Close With Only One Post Contested: Election Slated August 5th

All was quiet on the American Legion front Monday night as nominations were closed for post offices, and Russell Lovejoy remained uncontested choice for Post Commander with the August 5th election necessary only to settle the question of who is to be the second vice-commander. Walter Gregory and M. P. Livingston have both been nominated for that position, the only contested spot on the ballot.

Loyd Welch will be first vice-commander, Collin Hill will be sergeant-at-arms, historian is to be Herbert Mangaham, Sam Graham will reassume his duties as finance officer, while Roy Pickett will be chaplain. The executive committee consists of William Schwartz, Roy H. Pickett, Henry Olsen, Collin Hill, James A. Irvine, and M. P. Livingston.

State Takes First Place In Relief For Needy Aged

California's new old age pension law, of which Assemblyman Frank G. Martin is co-author, was signed Monday by Governor Merriam, assuring the State's needy aged more liberal aid than is furnished by any other State in the union.

Provisions of the bill include the reducing of the minimum pension age from 70 years to 65 years and setting of a new maximum and minimum rate. The maximum pension is raised from $30 to $35 a month, while a minimum of $20 is provided.

The new bill also provides that persons receiving pension may have interests in property to the assessed valuation of $3000, but upon death, the amount of aid extended becomes a first lien on the estate.

Observations

By Lee Shippey

ONE fine thing about Southern California is that here it never gets really hot. When we see in the papers that folks back in the East and Middle West are dying in droves under temperatures of 88 and 90 we can congratulate ourselves that in this heavenly clime the thermometer never goes above 100, except on special occasions.

For all that, there's as little humidity in our air as there is humus in our soil, and nobody dies of heat here. Our doctors always name it something else. And we're just like King Arthur's round table —our Nights are always cool.

Nation Gain Observed By Pritchard

Pastor Back From Eastern Trip, Tells Of Political Sentiment In Air

"President Roosevelt should be impeached!" was the extreme view taken by the secretary of a New England city chamber of commerce interviewed by Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard during his six weeks railway tour of the East from which he returned Monday.

Always on the lookout for cross-sectional viewpoints pertinent to political and business outlook, Mr. Pritchard made notes in direct quotation form of opinions throughout the nation. On the whole he found business conditions to be brighter, with more general confidence than in any of his recent annual trips to the eastern seaboard, while opinion on the Administration is adverse as well as favorable.

In contrast to the New Englander's view, came this statement from a prominent Memphis, Tennessee, lawyer: "Tennessee is all for Roosevelt, and I predict that he will be nominated and re-elected without any question."

On the other hand: "You'll hear the greatest explosion of your life when Roosevelt is snowed under in 1936," said the president of a large corporation in New York city.

A governmental worker in Washington, D. C., to whom Mr. Pritchard talked, said that many people differ with the President's policies, but can furnish no logical alternative as to what should be done. Then, again, from a Philadelphia lawyer came this thought:

"I believe it is morally wrong to pass laws which are in all probability unconstitutional."

In Arizona a well known Democrat stated that he did not understand many of the Administration's moves, but that he thought the President was handling an extremely difficult situation in a wonderful manner; and a Louisiana engineer said that he was a Democrat born, but didn't believe Roosevelt was a Democrat at all.

Generally speaking ,the employes who have benefited from the New Deal were found by Mr. Pritchard to be in sympathy with Roosevelt: the big interests were antagonistic to him, especially in New York and the New England states.

On his trip, the three questions fired at him invariably, concerned Sinclair, Townsend and Aimee McPherson, he said. At the Kiwanis Club luncheon Tuesday noon he will recount his travel experiences to fellow clubmembers, and Sunday the topic of his sermon at the Congregational church will be "Impressions of Moral and Religious Life of the Country."

SUBSISTENCE HOMES TURNED OVER TO OWNERS

The first group of 34 homes being constructed in the government's subsistence homstead project in El Monte was turned over to the new owners Monday for occupancy. Completion of the entire 100 homes has been set for July 25, contractors state.

Seventy-five workmen, including painters and decorators and master carpenters are employed on the project, and at one time there were 375 workers employed. SERA forces are now at work landscaping the grounds and planting the vegetable gardens, and the demonstration home opened to the public for inspection some weeks ago already has a well matured garden.

Hear Aims Of New Public Works Plan

Chief Counsel Foley, of the Public Works Administration, was the guest of honor and principal speaker at a banquet tended him at the Jonathan Club in Los Angeles Tuesday evening by the associated Democrats of the 12th Congressional district. He explained in detail the differences existing between the P.W.A. and newly established Works Progress Administration, the former being an engineering and technical agency and the latter being devoted to unskilled labor, white-collar employment and non-technical projects.

Among the Sierra Madreans attending were Postmaster and Mrs. R. O. Caukin, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, City Business Manager Al S. Myers, Councilman William Lees and City Attorney Phil Dodson.

Single Patrol Watches Water For Boy's Body

Nine weeks have passed since 10-year old Lee Elson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Elson of Temple City, plunged to his death in the cold waters impounded by the Big Santa Anita Canyon Dam, but not the faintest trace of his body has been found.

Diving crews operated over a period of three weeks, forestry men, C.C.C. workers and Sheriff's office deputies searched the lake day and night with grappling hooks and search lights, but all to no avail. This week a single patrol was being maintained in hope that the body will eventually come to the surface.

Reduced Tax Rate Here Is Not Unlikely

Value Of New Improvements May More Than Offset Shrinkage Of Realty

Although official report on Sierra Madre's assessed valuation for 1935-36 will not be forthcoming from the County Assessor's office for sometime, comparitive figures indicate general conditions to be much better here than during the past several years and it is possible that the City Council will find opportunity to either equal or slice the $2.40 tax rate of 1934-35.

Even if real estate valuations are lowered over last year, as has been the case in other neighboring cities, it is expected that improvements, increased personal property and the addition of public utilities to the tax rolls will to a great extent compensate for any decrease in values.

In line with the rest of Southern California, Sierra Madre has experienced a decided building boom since January 1st. The building permit figures for the first six months of the year top those of 1934 by $10,534, totalling $44,146 .The local utilities values have already been set at $222,-035. While these gains are not expected to completely balance natural shrinkage in realty assessment values, it is probable that the ratio of devaluation will be less than last year—when the total valuation of $2,349,455 was $125,185 under the figure for 1933-34.

The county at large, with an added $200,000,000 value in public utilities, has a taxable wealth of $2,312,000,000. Improvements, personal property, and stocks and bonds have all appreciably increased, but real estate has slumped one and three-quarter million under 1934. In the Southern California area building permits, for the fixst six months of this year alone, have approximately doubled over a similar period last year—$34,258,204 to $15,174,247.

Many New Families Come To City; More Inquiries For Homes

Mr .and Mrs. P. Zehle, of Los Angeles, have moved to 166 East Grand View.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smurda of Santa Monica have moved to the city. They are located at 650 West Montecito.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mertz, of Los Angeles, are among the new comers to Sierra aMdre. They are residing at 50 North Auburn avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burmeister, of Inglewood, have taken up residence in the city. They are living at 445 East Grand View avenue.

One Government For Los Angeles City And County Proposed By L. A. Mayor

Tells Rural Newspapermen Of Plan To Be Submitted To The Voters Soon

By John Copeland

Stating that present form of county government is obsolete and that all present county governmental functions could be carried on by the State as a means of equalizing the tax burden for incorporated municipalities such as Sierra Madre, Mayor Frank Shaw met press representatives from a number of neighboring weekly and daily newspapers in the Los Angeles City Hall Tuesday afternoon to explain his plans for government simplification in this area.

"Unincorporated districts surely should not be benefited by services for which they do not pay, at the expense of incorporated cities," Shaw said. "Eighty-nine percent of the county tax money is furnished by the municipalities, under the present system, which is obviously unfair to cities such as Los Angeles that are being forced to pay for services of no advantage nor concern to them. I maintain that it is taxation without representation."

Within the next week Mayor Shaw is submitting a survey of county-city governmental conditions to a special committee which will act to find the most efficient means of solving the problems he believes to exist. Several solutions may be advanced, including consolidation of Los Angeles city and county governments to form a government similar to that of San Francisco; consolidation of functions of the various jurisdictions within the county; legislation to relieve property in Los Angeles city from the burden of all county taxation, except that necessary to pay the costs of services actually rendered by the county to the city; or the absolute abolition of county government, with the State itself rendering all services not performed by the municipality.

When the committee reports its findings, efforts will probably be made by Los Angeles to have the matter come up before the public in a general county election. Shaw stated.

As far as could be ascertained by the interview, even though the final step of abolition of county government were ultimately accomplished, such cities as Sierra Madre would be only slightly affected. Apparently neither Shaw nor his City Council contemplates any moves that could be construed as interfering with the self governing powers of the smaller self-contained municipalities. Only unincorporated areas would be seriously touched, and they would be compelled by any of the proposed simplification plans to foot the bill of whatever governmental service and convenience they enjoy.

It was suggested that the Sheriff's department might be incorporated in a State police system, and that all such agencies as the Flood Control Department and the Department of Recreation Camps and Playgrounds be similarly taken under the State's wing. Gasoline tax allocations would be handled directly by municipalities, with greater returns to themselves in that unincorporated areas would be compelled to pay for their own local streets.

"One instance of the present unfair situation," the Mayor pointed out, "is that the City of Los Angeles has received only 23.39 percent of all funds made available to the county from State Motor Vehicle taxes and fees, although it is estimated that our taxpayers contributed 60 per cent of these allocations."

However, he failed to take into consideration the fact that Los Angeles motorists do the much greater share of their holiday driving along county and State highways— not in the restricted metropolitan area.

POST OFFICE MAKES GAINS IN BUSINESS

Showing a substantial increase of $1,137.24 over last year, the Sierra Madre Post Office receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 totalled $16,797.22, according to the official report made public this week by Postmaster R. O. Caukin.

Gains were also made in money orders, with a $9,592.46 increase in orders issued. In the past year $54,283.02 worth of money orders were issued, as compared with $44,690.56 in the 1933-34 period.

Postal savings system, installed here only last month, shows much hope for continued growth as $6,100 was deposited in the first 30 days of operation, while $8,600 in the new issue United States "Baby Bonds" had been sold to June 30th.

All-Stars In 12-4 Victory Over Bankers

Braves Take Licking From Both Pirates And Cubs As Standings Altered

Despite the heat the City League ball players had a busy time this past week, as the Kiwanis All-Stars soundly trounced California Bank, the Cubs climbed out of the league cellar over the prostrate form of the Braves, and the Pirates very firmly established their claim to the loop title.

By a score of 12 to 4 the locals defeated the Bankers on Friday evening, with Joby Kiggins holding the visitors safe in every frame but the third, when they solved his delivery for a two-bagger and a couple of home runs to score three.

The Kiwanians played well, for all that they made seven errors on hurried throws which went wide of the mark. It was anybody's game until the last of the sixth when a triple by Evans and a home run by Bus Brain acounted for three runs— after two men were down. Again in the eighth, after two were away, singles by Scalzo and Evans and an intentional pass to Brain filled the bags, Robert LaLone came to bat, let the first two go

Supervisors Urged To Demand US Aid For Unemployed

Assemblyman Frank G. Martin of Altadena, Legislative Representative of this 48th Assembly District, has written the County Board Supervisors as follows:

"Upon my return from Sacramento I have become familiar with the desperate situation with reference to indigents and 'unemployables'. I feel that it would be shamefully unjust to put such an intolerable burden upon the taxpayers of Los Angeles County as is proposed. We all know what a large proportion of these indigents are dumped into Los Angeles county and Southern California from other states. The Federal government is strict in its requirements that these dependents be cared for out of Federal unemployment funds allocated to California.

"I believe it is a very correct view to take that both Federal and State governments should share liberally with Los Angeles county in caring for these indigents and in helping to bear a financial load which it would be rankly unjust and unreasonable to expect Los Angeles county to bear unaided. This is my view as a citizen and taxpayer of Los Angeles county.

"I trust that your Honorable Board will stand firmly against the huge budget increase proposed and that you will fight to the last ditch for State and Federal aid."

Judge J. O. Durrell of Azusa was elected president of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley on Tuesday. Black Widow Egg Sack More Deadly Than Her Sting Scientists Now Declare

BEWARE! Having just eaten her husband, Mrs. Latrodectus Mactans now has taken up watch over her unhatched brood, and is in consequence very nasty of disposition and not to be trifled with.

Death lurks in her bite, and she is apt to be encountered in empty tin cans, under rubbish piles, in the woodshed, or even under the icebox—"She" is the Black Widow, spider with the orange-colored hour glass marking on the stomach.

Strangely enough, the Widow's daintily tinted egg sack is more poisonous than she herself. The juice from a crushed sack, if it gets on an open scratch on the skin, is deadly as rattlesnake venom, according to Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer.

In describing first-aid methods for the bite of the spider, Dr. Pomeroy states:

"First apply a tourniquet above the bite, using a nicktie, handkerchief or piece of cord. Make a cross incision at the bite with a sharp, sterilized knife, and suck the poision out, preferably with a rubber suction pump Every fifteen minutes release the band, to allow gradual absorption Get a doctor as soon as possible and have him take you to the General Hospital where anti-venom is on hand."

Pomeroy goes on to explain that less than one person out of 100,000 is bitten every year in the county, and that only one person in a million dies from the bite. Of the 22 persons bitten last year, two of them died.

Among sprays recommended for control of the deadly little insect is one consisting of a one per cent solution of nicotine sulphate in water, and a pyrethrum-oil spray which paralyzes the spider. Creosote is highly effective, acting as a repellant, according to Farm Advisor M. B. Rounds.

Despite the alleged bad reputation accorded the Black Widow, recent newspaper dispatches from the mid-west told of a newspaper reporter who spent 12 unavailing hours trying to get one of the spiders to sting his hand. Newspaper reporters, however, are probably the only people that could succeed in getting away with this.

Opposition To Use Of Ross Field As Golf Course Grows

Pasadena acted this week to prevent the Santa Anita Golf Club's vision of an 18-hole Ross Field golf course becoming a reality. City Manager C. W. Koiner requested that the Board of Supervisors oppose expenditure of tax funds for such a project when the land is developed into a county park.

Golfing enthusiasts from Sierra Madre, Arcadia, El Monte and Monrovia are meanwhile bending every effort toward securing the course, according to Mrs. Charles Willey, president of the Santa Anita club, which was organized to sponsor the campaign.

In addition to the regular curricular work ,the children participate in contests and class picnics. Surprise treats and special speakers feature many days.

The school continues every week day morning from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. until July 26. There are classes for every one from pre-school through junior college age.

Application for use of the camp may be made at the City Hall.

Forest Service Knocks Foothill Power Line Route

The weight of the U.S. Forestry Service this week was thrown back of the fight to prevent erection of the Bureau of Power and Light's power line through the foothills. A letter was filed with the R.F.C. requesting that the transmission line be re-routed because of the "very real and unnecessary fire hazard in the San Bernardino and Angeles National Forests, upon which the water supply of the entire valley is dependent."

MOON ECLIPSE FREE SHOW FOR TOWNSPEOPLE

Hundreds of Sierra Madreans spent Monday evening on their front porches and in their yards enjoying Mother Nature's spectacular total eclipse of the moon. The balmy evening air, clear atmosphere and position of the moon at the time of phenomenon made observation conditions ideal, even without aid of telescope or glasses.

Although the earth's satalite entered the penumbra at 6:15 p.m., the umbra wasn't reached until 7:12 when the eclipse commenced to be an attraction from the casual spectator's viewpoint. At 8:09 the total eclipse started, and at 9:50 it ended. The moon left the umbra at 10:47, left the penumbra at 11:43. Throughout the eclipse a blood red haze was apparent over the moon surface. Photo electric observations of the total light reflected at various phases were made through a 10-inch telescope atop Mt. Wilson.

Fat Purses Dangled By Santa Anita

Race Track Ups Prize Money And Gives Better Break By Cutting "Take"

Voluntarily cutting its share of the take from 8 to 6 percent, and posting over $600,000 in money awards for the coming 58-day meeting, the Santa Anita track this week made public plans for widespread inovations and improvement for Southern California's next racing season which is to open Christmas Day.

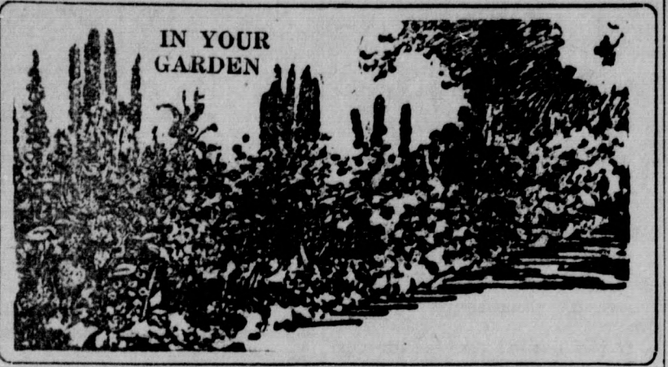

There is the addition of the California Breeders' Champion Stake, December 31, a mile race for California 2-year-olds with a purse of $1,000; there is the increase of the Santa Anita Derby purse, February 15, from $20,000 to $25,000; and the upping of minimum daily purses to $1000 apiece.

In adidtion to the rich $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap purse, $7500 will be awarded to the trainer of the winning horse, and $2500 to the trainer of the second horse. Winning jockey will be given $1750, and the second pilot will drag down $750.

The coming meeting's money tops that of last season by $115,000, all in all.

Cutting of the track's share of pari-mutuel will mean a saving to the betting public of about $350,000, while the $250,000 in improvements which are scheduled to commence next week will be greatly to the race fans' advantage. A new grandstand is contemplated along the west terrace, additional tote boards are to be set up, clubhouse facilities will be increased, and the entire grounds will be artistically landscaped.

Among the outstanding events of the meeting are the Christmas Stakes, for horses of all ages, one mile with $5000 added; the New Year's Stakes, for 3-year-olds and upwards, a mile and a sixteenth, $5000 added; the San Antonio Handicap, 3-year-olds and upwards, one mile and one furlong, $7500 added; as well as the Derby, the big Handicap, and the San Juan Capistrano Handicap, which winds up the meeting February 29 with $10,000 added money.

IRRIGATION IN THE GARDEN

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

WATER HYDRANTS should be spaced at convenient distances about the garden so that every nook can be reached with a 50 foot hose. The pipelines that are used to convey the water to the hydrants should not be smaller than three-quarter-inch.

Whether the watering will be done with a hose or by an overhead sprinkling system will depend on the amount one can afford to invest, the pressure of the water available and the kind of plants being grown. Small seedlings can be watered with a sprinkling can. Lawns are most easily watered with an automatic sprinkling system. Border plants in the garden can be sprinkled with a hose, though an overhead sprinkling system can be used.

Shrubbery and fruit trees are usually irrigated by allowing the water to flow from the hose into basins about the trees. However, they can be watered by overhead sprinklers that are high enough to throw the water over the shrubs or trees. Sprinkling the foliage of plants and trees with orchard sprinklers will help a lot in keeping down pests of all kinds as the water washes the foiage.

So many people think that it is bad practice to water during the heat of the day. Our experience has been that it matters very little what time of day you water, that if a plant or a lawn is suffering for water, stop and water it right now even if it is during the noon hour on the hottest day of the year. The water cannot possibly do as much damage to the plants as the heat is doing when they are dry, and we can not see that the water does any damage anyway.

All kinds of plants do not require the same amount of water.

Few plants will grow without any water at all but there are many that we call drought-resisting plants. These kind of plants usually do not like to be planted in lawns or other places where they get water everyday. Some examples of this sort of plants are Acacia trees, Heather, and Diosmas.

However, most plants like lots of water and grow fast according to how much they get. As plants can only take up food in the liquid form as sap, you can readily see how plants that have only enough moisture to keep them alive cannot grow.

Income Of Avocado Growers Jumped By Quarter Of A Million

Calavo growers of this and other Southern California communities have received a total of over a quarter of a million dollars more for their 1935 crop to July 1, than for their 1934 crop to the same date, reveals the growers' marketing cooperative today.

Avocados marketed from last October 1 to this July 1 have netted growers a total of $509,172.00, compared with $230,678.00 for the same period of last season. These returns include pool payments, partial operating refund, revolving fund but not the final operating dividend that is usually netted by growers at the close of the fiscal year over all fruit handled during that season.

Fuertes comprised 75 percent of the entire tonnage of all varieties produced to July 1 and marketed through the growers' cooperative. Of the 12,459,369 pounds produced and marketed, 9471,267 pounds were of this one variety.

NICKLE PILFERERS PICK PIN-GAME LOCK

Police Chief Gordon McMillan this week investigated the premises of the Sierra Madre Pool Room ,owned by William Deutsch and located at 41 North Baldwin avenue, as the result of a report by Deutsch that someone had picked the lock on a marble-pin game. The machine, located in the rear of the building, was apparently tampered with while the proprietor was engaged in the front end. No money was reported obtained.

DEBT BURDENED PROPERTY OWNERS GET A BIG BREAK FROM THE LEGISLATURE

California Enacts Country's Most Liberal Debt Relief Measure

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by Ralph H. Taylor, farm leader and recognized authority on problems of State government ,reviewing the work of the 1935 State Legislature.)

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

SHAKESPEARE'S Shylock, if he suddenly dropped into California, seeking his traditional pound of flesh, would undoubtedly catch the first boat back to his native Venice—after a brief reading of California's new mortgage and trust deed moratorium act!

For the 1935 State Legislature played Portia to California debtors in the grand manner, enacting one of the most liberal programs of debt-relief legislation in the entire country.

The program is so liberal, in fact, that both courts and citizens should take unusual precautions to guard against improvident and unscrupulous debtors abusing their new privileges and undermining the State's whole credit structure.

Debt-burdened farmers, fighting for a new foothold and new security, probably will benefit by the debt-easement legislation as much as any group in the State. But the farmer, too, would be among those hardest hit if abuses were permitted which destroyed confidence in the credit system. Thousands of farmers would be utterly unable to operate their properties if they were barred from securing loans during the planting and harvesting seasons and California agriculture should lead the way in preventing any further breakdown of credit.

In the final analysis, the responsibility for destroying or strengthening confidence in California credit will rest with the individual— the borrower! The Legislature went the limit in an effort to ease the burden and provide relief. And California farmers, together with other debtors, must also go the limit in meeting their obligations as rapidly as possible and restoring confidence in their responsibility and integrity.

The new mortgage and trust deed moratorium law, which will remain in effect until February, 1937, continues all of the basic principles of the temporary moratorium act passed at the January session of the Legislature and, in addition, broadens several features of the old law.

Patterned after the Minnesota moratorium act, which has been tested in the United States Supreme Court, the law provides that hard-pressed property owners, faced with foreclosures, may appeal to the superior court of their county and secure a readjustment of interest and principal payments commensurate with their ability to pay.

Once accorded such relief, debtors who comply with the court's orders and keep up their tax and insurance payments are protected from foreclosure for the duration of the moratorium The law provides that debtors may seek relief under its provisions as long as ninety days after foreclosure proceedings have been instituted.

Also of importance to farmers and others in the trying period of depression-convalescence is a new law giving taxpayers the right to pay delinquent taxes on the installment plan without penalties. This tax-relief act will be in effect until April 20, 1936, and will enable property owners to redeem their properties by payment of ten annual installments

By eliminating penalties of interest on delinquent taxes, the law will materially cut the costs of redeeming properties, permitting thousands of property owners to make a new start and greatly reduce the delinquent tax rolls in the State.

Easing the burden will still further, the Legislature also enacted a series of bills which will result in substantial savings in crop mortgage costs, due to eliminations and reductions in filing and recording fees on crop and livestock loans.

Fire Flames

THE CHIEF ordered the firemen to connect to a fire plug and test the pumps on the large truck last Friday. This is to be a regular routine of future drills, according to the Chief. Most of the fire plugs about the city are of sufficient pressure for the big pump, but the machinery must be in working order. To use it is a great benefit. Many delicate valves must be kept from becoming corroded and from sticking.

Chief Richards put the crew in charge of Assistant Chief Norris. Marion Hayes was assigned as the driver. "Shorty" Steinberger acted as engineer, while the other men were given particular duties along the line of hose. Much is learned by some of we old timers by watching the new men get their instruction.

"Tex" Schoemaker appeared at the fire station near the starting time and was given a big hand. He is now Chief of Police at La Verne. "Tex" not only took on a new job of late, but he was also taken in by a fine looking girl. It is not known by many, but a few of us know that "Tex" had to go all the way to Oregon to bring her back. She said if she was worth having, she must be worth going after. That's why he went to Oregon. The firemen were unable to find Mrs. Shoemaker last Friday, but they did delay "Tex" as long as their strength held out. He finally outwinded some of the old men of the fire department and got away.

Vacation season is nearing and much is heard about fellows going into the woods so far that they cannot be reached. It would be a relief to all of us if two or three of the noisiest ones of the department would stay there.

It's been a long time since the firemen have paid anything out for newborn babes. There is a rumor, however. Let's hope it won't be twins.

Children's Drama Guild Members Appear In Shakespearian Revival In Pasadena

CHILDREN of the Sierra Madre Drama Guild participated with juvenile musicians of Pasadena in the Gold Shell Memorial Park concert in Pasadena on Sunday.

Patsy and Mary Moeller, Betty Jean Askew, George Tyree and Herman Bartold were due at the dress rehearsal of King Henry IV, part two, at the same hour as the Shell program. Through the kindness of Gilmore Brown they were excused from the rehearsal for one half hour. They, with Billy Van Meter, are appearing in the current Shakespearian Chronicle at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

The stage at the Gold Shell was transformed into a charming garden scene through the courtesy of the Pasadena Park Department.

Marjorie Royce and Grace Jensen won rewards of ten stars each for excellence, our own Mayor and an interested stranger being the judges. The work of all the children was excellent. At the conclusion of the program the director and her staff were presented to the interested audience.

Marjorie and Muriel Royce, Grace Jensen, Lois Pickett, Geraldine Davis ,Sylvia Colbert, Carla Thayer and Marjorie Griffith also appeared on the shell program. Dolores Bartold acted as mistress of ceremonies; Clay Reavis was stage manager and Irene Lloyd handled the properties.

The director has practically finished a new sketch, "Game All," which will be presented during the summer.

A group of older girls from St. Rita's Parish has joined the Senior division of the Guild. They will present "The Green-Eyed Monster," for St. Rita's in the near future.

Tomorrow the Guild will hold a rumage sale in the vacant store next to Draman's Shoe shop. The proceeds will be used for the presentation of "The Mysterious Princess."

Vernon Morse and Miss Dacotah Carlisle have consented to cooperate with the Guild by designing and executing the castle to be used in the operetta.

CE Affairs Arouse New Interest Here

ONE thing the heat revived! Christian Endeavor affairs again seem to be interesting enough to attract the folks. "Merrily we roll around, around, around—then go boom." Such would be the theme song as Bethany Endeavorers join other young people of Los Angeles County Union for a skate and a few falls at the Culver City Rollerdrome on Washington boulevard tomorrow night.

Three societies still meet each Sunday evening, supposedly at 6:15. Pre-prayer circles planned to precede the Young People's meeting in the rotunda, the Nipponese society in Bethany Hall and the Junior Highs in the men's Bible class addition. Most of those attending stick around an additional hour for the evening church service.

Loyal support was given President Merrill A. Smith by local C.E.ers to the division singspiration that went through despite the warmth of last Sunday afternoon. Brother Ben Eric directed the singing—one of the songs introduced being the effort of these two faithful and active Christian Endeavorers— Merrill supplying the music and words for the first stanza and Ben Smith tacking on stanza two.

J. O. Smith was the oldest ex-president of the California C. E. union introduced at the recent State convention in Fullerton, which was attended by several who live in this community. Convention's play day was at the San Diego exposition.

EASTERN STAR SOCIAL CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

Sierra Madrean Is Among The Women Leaders Of The Land

The women of Sierra Madre are represented in "American Women," the official "Who's Who" among the women of the nation by Lucia Trent. Her biography is one of approximately six thousand included in this survey of the leading women of the land. This book, just off the press, lists National women's organizations, furnishes a geographical cross index by city and State and gives an interesting statistical summary showing such facts as that 41 percent of these most prominent women in the country are married, as well as gives facts about the 6,214 women selected as America's most illustrious.

Lucia Trent, who in private life is Mrs. Ralph Cheyney, is listed as poet, critic, lecturer, recitalist and editor. This conductor with her husband of the Sierra Madre Poets' Workshop is one of the few poets represented. There are 30 college presidents, 6 congresswomen, 334 business executives and 213 attorneys included.

Chevrolet Sales Break All Records On The Pacific Coast

9237 new Chevrolet cars and trucks delivered at retail !

"The greatest single month of sales in the history of Chevrolet during June on the Pacific Coast."

That stirring news of record-breaking achievement flashed over the wires yesterday, as auditors at the big Okland plant of the Chevrolet Motor Company tallied the final figure in recapitulation of new car and truck retail sales for the month of June. All previous sales records for any one month, even including those bonanza months registered in the boom year of 1929, went by the boards when the June sales results were tabulated for the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and the portions of Montana and Wyoming served by the Western organization of Chevrolet.

"The new mark is significant of the inspired determination being displayed by Chevrolet workers everywhere," Pacific Coast regional manager, commented. "The best part of the June performance of our efficient coast-wise dealer organization is that it convincingly demonstrates how the public accepts our products when we are in a position to make sustained immediate deliveries. We anticipate a marvelous selling month in July, also, inasmuch as the public can henceforth take immediate delivery of all Master de Luxe models."

Co-Ops Again Face Wall As Mattoon Hits County Aid

County Counsel Everett W. Mattoon threw a monkey wrench into the county's plans for extending aid to cooperative self help units this week when he ruled the State law legalizing the county rehabilitation department fails to remove the constitutional objection to financial aid to co-ops.

Athough the new bill, No. 653, was passed as a direct result of the Board of Supervisors' need for authorization to extend the cooperative plan in caring for the 15,000 border-line unemployable cases in the county, Mattoon rules that constitutional provisions prohibit the giving away of public funds to persons other than indigents and paupers legally entitled to county aid.

TRUCK FIRE PUT OUT ON HASTINGS RANCH

A truck belonging to A. Carpenter caught afire while parked at the Hasting's Ranch, on upper Sierra Madre avenue, Sunday, and was extinguished with the aid of hand fire apparatus from the local Fire Department. The Eaton Canyon Patrol station also aided in bringing the blaze under control.

Our unit voted to give our thanks to the Legion members who so kindly cleaned out the Dug-Out. Our next regular meeting will be held there July 25th with Mrs. Arthur Embree as the hostess.

With the business of the evening over, at our last meeting, co-hostesses with Helen Lovejoy were Mrs. Thomas P. Buie, and Louise Roe Bobb. Bunco was indulged in. Mrs. Barker winning the firs tprize. Mrs. Orcelia Stinman took the second prize. Refreshments were served shortly before midnight.

"Mother" Steinberger was with us, and happy we were to have her out with her reassuring words to the hard working chairmen. It is such kindly words that make the "work" worth while after all.

PEN SLANTS

By John Copeland

ONE flustered lady, awakened by the earthquake, rushed into her daughter's bedroom and anxiously exclaimed:

"Was than an earthquake, or just your husband trying to navigate the front steps?"

If you haven't done so already, drop in on the Little Gallery's exhibition of local artists' work. Vernon Morse has gotten together an unusual amount of professional and non-professional talent in this showing, and we don't even have to qualify with "for a town of this tize."

We can't quite figure out how hometowners can be so indifferent to cultural events that are recognized as important by such men as Lauritz and Fechin.

There is ,of course, a comparitively small group of standbys who are conversant with the Little Galelry work being done by Morse, and instruction being given by him, Alfred Dewey and Harry Hawxhurst — but we'll wager that there are more people in various other parts of the Southland than there are here, who have been to the exhibitions in the City Hall since they were started under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Griebenow.

3 Proposals Face Voters On August 13

Ballots for the special State election on August 13, together with arguments for the three propositions to be submitted to the electorate, are being prepared for distribution by the Secretary of State's office in Sacramento.

Following is a list of the propositions in the order of their appearance on the ballot:

1. A $13,950,000 bond issue for a wing to the State Capitol building at Sacramento, a new prison in Southern California, improvements to the State hospital and additions to the State Building in Los Angeles.

2. A constitutional amendment giving the State authority to make short-term loans in anticipation of revenues, the purpose being to eliminate the practice of issuing 5 per cent registered warrants by making loans at a lower interest rate to meet current expenditures.

3. Another constitutional amendment to give the director of finance the authority to contract with the Rector Canyon Dam authority to purchase water from the proposed State-owned Rector Canyon Dam for five State institutions in the vicinity of Napa.

Arguments for the propositions were written by legislators.

Advantage Of Ice Refrigeration Is Told By Company

Ice refrigeration costs can always be estimated in exact figures when the housewife is figuring out her monthly budget, inasmuch as the only expense is the cost of the ice. This fact was brought out by Thomas Miller, Jr., proprietor of the Sierra Madre Ice Company, this week as he displayed his new line of air-conditioned ice refrigerators.

Among the other advantages of the new refrigerators as pointed out by Miller is the constant circulation of moist, fresh air which makes hydrators unnecessary ,and keeps meats, fruits and vegetables preserved in their natural flavor and freshness. Miller produced scientific deductions to bear out his contention that nothing surpasses melting ice for constancy of temperature, and that moist air absorbs odors and is washed fresh by circulation around the ice. The public is invited to inspect the refrigerators at the Sierra Madre Ice company's offices on East Montecito avenue.

NEW FOOTHILL LINK TO OPEN WITHIN WEEK

Opening a more direct route from Foothill boulevard into the business section of Pasadena, a new section of Foothill extending from the present Santa Anita-Greenwood-Walnut intersection will be completed in approximately one week. The section is three-quarters of a mile in length and opens a direct road from East Foothill into Walnut street.

CHINESE GENERAL WILL SPEAK HERE

Major General Tiu, of Nanking, China, will address the Friendship Circle of the Pasadena First Presbyterian church, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Earl Gossard, 354 North Canon Sunday evening. After the lecture, light refreshments will be served.

By Henry Ivins Hawkshurst

THE other day a friend dropped into our studio and said: "Honest to josh is the world going screwey, read this." He handed us one of those pocket editions of sophistication—and we read:

"This makes perfectly good sense if you merely punctuate it correctly:

"Smith where Jones had had had had had had had had had had the examiner's approval."

A foot note said to turn to page so-and-so for the solution and we did and were informed magnificently by this enlightenment:

"Smith, where Jones had had "had had," had had "had." "Had had" had had the examiner's approval."

On this same day we had an invitation to attend a Hollywood exhibit of Modern Art—by Modernists. The cover of the invitation was adorned by a reproduction of one of those paintings that looked as if a jigg-saw had made a cross section of the belly of a cello, a kitchen sink,—a road-side comfort station and a pair of rubber boots. The painting was titled "Humanity"—who can say—perhaps all of this is art—a-la mode?

Need Of Citrus Market Control Greater Now Than Any Time In Industry's History Says Head Of Great Exchange

The situation with regard to amendments to the Federal AAA as they affect marketing agreements such as the California-Arizona Citrus Marketing Agreement was reported in good shape by Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, who has just returned from a trip to Washington made at the request of AAA officials.

"Marketing agreements such as ours have not been under such serious attack and are not so susceptible of attack as the processing tax in effect on basic commodities," said Armstrong. "I was surprised to find that California congressmen had received wires opposing the amendments and in some cases asking that citrus be excluded from the act which, if done, would mean no more Federal marketing agreement. Doubtless this opposition in many cases was the result of misunderstanding.

"The Exchange had nothing to do with the amendments concerning prorates to markets, or by size and grade," he said. "These were included by the administration in the interests of other crops or of citrus from other states, and in any event can only be used when commodity groups want to use them.

"Our present agreement has none of these provisions and we need none of them," Armstrong added. "We expressed to the administration that the California citrus industry desired to continue the present agreement without change and the Federal AAA will back up and enforce our present agreement until the act as amended becomes law. We believe that we need this control measure this summer as never before and we think and hope that the other shippers also want to see it continued," he stated.

Mortgage Ruling Unpopular With Relief Seekers

Relief applicants owning any property must give a mortgage as security for aid advanced by the county, according to a ruling from the County Bureau of Efficiency. It had been hoped that the mortgage formality, in smaller relief cases, might be foregone.

Property owners in the past have put up strenuous objection to forfeiting their property rights for temporary relief aid, and the Supervisors have concurred with their feeling.

County Will Open Pest Control Work In Citrus Groves

Concerted attack against scale and insect pests that infest citrus orchards of the county will be started by hundreds of men about the last week of July, it is announced by the office of County Agricultural Commissioner Harold Ryan.

Spraying and fumigation will be conducted by crews working for the ranchers and the packing houses, all under the supervision of trained deputies supplied by the agricultural commissioner.

Over two million ladybug beetles had been released in Los Angeles county orchards during the last fiscal year in order to combat mealybug.

Former U. S. Labor Director To Address Sierra Madreans Monday As Speaker At Meeting Of The Local Townsend Club

WILLIAM C. CARPENTER, United States labor director under the Hoover administration ,and now in charge of communications for the National Townsend Headquarters, will address the Sierra Madre Townsend Club and townspeople next Monday evening at the City Hall. His speech will deal with the "Inside News of Activities at the National Headquarters."

As Mr. Carpenter personally handles much of the Townsend correspondence coming through the Los Angeles office, it will be interesting to hear the expression of the people. That a deeper, steadier foothold is being made everyday by the movement is more clearly demonstrated as each new activity gains momentum, it was declared at Monday night's meeting, where it was said that since the clarion call forth for honor members for the National Legion Membership, Townsend Clubs all over the West have responded with their usual fervor and sincerity.

For example, our neighbor, Temple City, was the first to report with ten charter members for the Legion, Glendale No. 5 was second to bring in six Legionnaires, and L. A. Club No. 20 proudly produced 20 members.

This means the payment of one dollar a month which is used for the purpose of sending trained speakers out into the field.

Sierra Madre is contributing to this cause with her list of six members up to date.

Mrs. MacDowell read several reports of the past week's events, including the rally at Brookside Park in Pasadena on Saturday which embraced many delightful entertainment features in addition to the speeches. The Boys' Military Band, which was originated by Buck Jones of Hollywood, and which had the honor of welcoming President Roosevelt when he stepped upon Portland's soil last year, was notable among the entertainers.

Mr. Thompson reported that he had received an excellent bit of cooperation from Dan Lewis, assistant city manager, to the effect that a permanent Townsend poster will be placed upon the City Hall bulletion from this date forth.

The business of Monday's meeting included the resignation of Mrs. Leighton as treasurer, and the election of Rev. W. W. Hannaford as her successor. And the appointment of a "Welcome New Members and Visitors" committee. Those on this committee are: Mr. Hannaford, H. Pearce, Mr. Miles, Mrs. Frances Davis, Mrs. Percy Langstaff and Mrs. High.

—Mildred Curtis Bolms.

Kiwanis Kolumn

LOCAL talent prevailed at our meeting Tuesday noon, consisting of moving pictures taken by Mr. McGraw, at the Chicago Century of Progress, photographed in colors. Rudolph Hartman, Jr., was the technician on the job (in other words, he operated the machine—was the chief engineer, or sumpin).

Monrovia's club was represented by their president and several members.

Kiwanis Day at San Diego will be August 10 and they are planning a whale of a meeting —plan to be there if you are in San Diego at that time. Might plan to take in the Fair and the meeting on the same trip.

—Roy H. Pickett.

sailing past for called strikes, then smacked the third pitch over the fence to clear the sacks.

Evans and Brain were the heavy hitters, the former getting four out of five times up and the latter three out of four times up.

Thursday the Cubs proved they could dish it out as well as take it ,by polishing off the Braves 19 to 3. Every man in the Cub lineup, with one exception, connected for one or more hits, with Young, Ed LaLone and Pickett getting four apiece. Masters was the only Brave to get more than one hit off LaLone, snagging a pair of doubles.

The Braves then took another trouncing Monday night, when the Pirates handled them a 16 to 8 drubbing. Out of a total of 27 hits, the game produced 17 extra-base socks—which included seven homers between the two teams. Borden was the star clouter for the winners, with four out of four for a homer, two triples and a double.

Brain trailed not so far behind Borden, with a double, triple and homerun out of five times at bat. Sanchez grabbed himself a pair of singles and a circuit trip. Batting honors for the Braves were carried away by Stamer and Neutzel, Bob getting three out of four and Henry snagging three out of five including two homers.

Two Martin Bills Get Governor's OK; Become State Laws

Governor Frank F. Merriam this week signed the Martin-Lyon-Redwine bill, prohibiting California school buildings being used as meeting places for "Communist or other radical groups opposed to established government." The bill was one sponsored by Assemblyman Frank G. Martin of this district. The Governor said he considered it one of the most important measures passed on to him by the Legislature.

Assembly Bill No. 703, providing for a new first offenders prison, and introduced by Martin, was also approved by the Governor. Stating that the prison may possibly be located in Ventura or Kern Counties, Martin said, "The bill provides that the site shall be selected by a commission of five, and I have nothing to do with the matter. Persons desiring to offer sites should communicate with the commission."

Funds for the prison will be provided by bonds to be voted upon at next month's special election, or through other sources if the issue fails to carry. The bill provides $400,000 for the site.

Arcadia Soldiers Fall Before Locals By A Score Of 11 - 3

With the entire infield playing in unaccustomed positions, the Sierra Madre Legion nevertheless had little trouble on its hands Friday in disposing of Arcadia's Soldiers, 11 to 3. The game, played on the valley city's diamond, was a romp for the locals who managed to connect with Arcadia Pitcher Shaw's deliveries at will.

Most of the locals got a couple of hits, all of them got at least one, while Harkness, Pratt, Olsen and Kindy all brought in two runs apiece. Pratt grabbed a pair of three baggers, for the only extra-base hits of the evening, besides striking out 14 men while operating at the other end of the line.

The following subjects will be discussed at each meeting: "Scale Control Results for 1934," "Control of the Red Spider and the Orange Worm," and "The Relationship of Citrus Pest Control to Production."

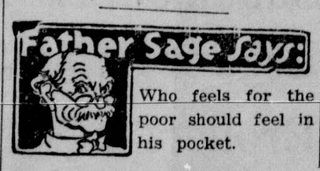

All growers interested are invited to attend. The meetings scheduled nearest this area are to be held Tuesday, July 23, 2 p.m., at Duarte School, South Buena Vista Street, Duarte, and on Friday, July 26, 2 p.m., at Covina High School, Citrus Avenue, Covina.

So easy to save at Safeway, mother can let Junior do her shopping

By JIM EDWARDS, Safeway Grocer

WE Safeway grocers welcome the opportunity to help youthful shoppers do mother's marketing. Taking care of the requirements of junior shoppers is a special accomplishment of ours.

Let your child bring a list of your needs to one of our neighborhood stores the next time you find yourself pressed for time. Let us show you how expertly we can select the items you want. You'll find that with your child's help the shopping will be surprisingly well done.

And, because coins have the habit of slipping out of small hands or bouncing from pockets, change envelopes are provided for young buyers at Safeway.

Not only will you save yourself time in this way, but you will receive the added advantage of Safeway's low prices. Then too, your child will obtain training in shopping and business contacts that are possible in no other way.

In union there is service!

Because we Safeway grocers have a WHOLE FAMILY OF FOOD EXPERTS buying, testing and transporting foods to our stores we have more time for special services like this. We who serve you in the store have no worry about obtaining the best of foods at the lowest prices . . .that is done for us by these experts. Our whole concern is to serve you best in offering you food values.

MAKE THIS TEST

For a single month do all of your food buying at Safeway. Compare your costs after this month's trial with the costs for any other month. That will prove what the Safeway family can save you.
